YOUNG MAN SEEKS TO OPIUM SMOKERS AND GET OUT OF THE PENITENTIARY

At the next meeting of the state board of pardons, an effort will be made to secure a pardon or parole for Egbert Watterson, a young man who pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Judge J. A. Howell to serve 18 years in the penitentiary for robbery. The young man pleaded guilty.

It will be recalled that in November, 1909, Watterson entered the store room of Wilson Brothers on Twenty-eighth street, between Wall and Pacific avenues, and, drawing a revolver, demanded the money in the till. Two of the Wilson brothers were in the store at the time and, while Watterson held his gun on one of them, the other attacked the man and threw him to the floor. Watterson's gun was taken away and he was given a good hammering. He was turned over to the officers and in a very short time he had pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the penitentiary.

He was charged by the county attorney with an assault and attempt to commit robbery, but the information, which was filed by Judge N. J. Harris, who then was acting as district attorney, charged him with robbery. Watterson's attorney states that if pardon or parole be not granted, he is certain he can release his client in habeas corpus proceedings, on the grounds that he was sentenced for a greater offense than was originally charged. He is of the opinion that the variance between the original charge of attempted robbery and actual robbery is fatal, and that the supreme court would order his release.

The attorney states that Watterson is only 29 years old and was barely passed the age of maturity when he committed the offense, and also, that he was directed in the affair by a confederate, old in crime. He says that Watterson comes from a good family in Texas and that he has been an ideal prisoner during the six years of his incarceration. He has learned the shoemaker's trade in the penitentiary and has become quite an accomplished musician. The young man expresses a desire to be released and enter into the shoemaking business. He will be content with a parole and states that he will prove his worthiness of freedom.

TEACHERS CANNOT BE GIVEN INCREASES

There will be no decrease in the salaries of the city school teachers, according to a plan proposed by Director H. H. Henderson and adopted by the board of education, at its regular meeting last night. The plan provides for an increase of $5 per month for teachers that give instruction for two sessions, unless they are transferred to a grade where double sessions are not held, but the present plan of increasing the salaries of new teachers from $300 per year is abandoned. This change was found necessary owing to the deficit which the board now faces.

Following the approval of the plan, Supt. Mills was authorized to proceed with the making of contracts with teachers for next year.

Miss Viola Clancy, clerk of the board, reported that it would be necessary to borrow $31,000 to meet the teachers final double payroll and other claims this month and was authorized to borrow $35,000, so as to have a cash balance in the bank. This is in addition to the $10,000 borrowed several weeks ago. The school district will receive about $11,000 from the state in July, which will cut the overdraft down to about $40,000 for the year. Payment of $450 on bond interest and also special improvement taxes against the Quincy school was authorized.

ingly decorated with hand painted "W's."

The large porch off the east entrance to the hall was utilized as a rest bower, being comfortably arranged with easy chairs and rugs, while in an alcove leading to it, delicious fruit punch, candies and Spanish peanuts were served.

But after all, the dance was the thing and the dainty programs presented to the guests were so well filled that many of the young people present failed, from choice, to visit the summer garden. The generous and convenient supply of punch and confectionery, however, made up to a great extent for the loss of this treat. The programs were of an unusually artistic style and well worth keeping as a souvenir of the occasion. The dance numbers they contained included the waltz, two step, Ostende, one step, hesitation waltz, Buffalo Glide and Rye waltz and each one was enjoyed.

Music for the event was furnished by the school orchestra, under the direction of Prof. E. W. Nichols, and consisted mainly of late dance tunes, this fact being much appreciated. The crowd numbered about 125 couples, consisting of the members of the two classes, members of the faculty, the alumni association and other specially invited guests.

CIRCUS TRAIN IS HELD IN OGDEN ALL DAY BY ATTACHMENT

Because of financial stringencies, the Barton & Bailey circus last night fell upon the rocks, and was not able to fill its engagement at Preston, Idaho, today. The trainload of equipment, and the five passenger coaches belonging to the company, were placed on the Oregon Short Line tracks after the performance last night, but remained there during the entire day. It is said by members of the company, however, that their troubles will be fixed up this afternoon and that the circus will move on at about 8 o'clock this evening.

The occasion for the delay was an attachment instituted by the Peery Estate company, some merchants of the city, a number of the employees of the circus, to secure payment of rental on the circus grounds, grocery and meat bills and wages. The total amount of the claims was about $300. To secure payment of the amount Sheriff DeVine attached a team of horses, and gate receipts amounting to $50. The property has been retained by the sheriff all day pending a proposed settlement. No action has been taken in the courts, except the filing of complaints and the issuance of the attachment.

It is said that Mr. Barton and Mr. Bailey are lessees of the circus, the owner being W. P. Hall of Lancaster, Missouri, and that the show has been on the road under the lease only a few weeks. It was explained this afternoon by one of the circus men that the trouble last night was simply a case of a little hard luck which made it impossible to meet all obligations on a moment's notice.

Should the attachment remain in force any considerable length of time, it is said that Mr. Hall will begin reviving proceedings in the courts to regain his property.

Employees of the company have remained at the depot all day, some of them remonstrating against their treatment by the circus.

COMPLAINT IS FILED AGAINST A LOCAL DOCTOR

At the instance of Thomas E. Browning, former chief of police of Ogden, but now special agent for various state boards, a complaint has been filed in the Municipal court, charging Dr. Y. S. Raymond, naturopathist, with the practice of medicine without a license, the specific act being alleged to have been on William Henry Wright who died a few months ago of cancer of the liver. A warrant for the arrest of the doctor is in the hands of Sheriff T. A. DeVine.

The sheriff states that Dr. Raymond is in Idaho at the present time, but that he is expected to return home in the course of a few days, when service of the warrant will be made. Dr. Raymond's residence and place of business is at 266 Thirty-second street, where he has a nature cure sanitarium.

Mr. Browning states that a rigid campaign against illegal practitioners in medicine in Utah is to be carried on, and that every person suspected of such practice will be complained of in the courts. He states that a recent decision by the supreme court is to the effect that whether practitioners actually use medicine or not, it shall be construed that it is the practice of medicine if an attempt is made to heal the sick without a certificate of practice from the state medical board of examiners.

THE CAUSE OF MANY UNHAPPY MARRIAGES.
Charles E. Jefferson writes an interesting article entitled, "In Their New Home." It is a sort of friendly talk to young married people. In the following extract taken from the article he explains why some marriages turn out badly:

"It takes two hearts to build a home. No woman can build a home by herself. Husband and wife must collaborate in this difficult piece of work. Many men do not realize this. They assume that all a woman wants is a home. If they pay the bills, nothing more, they think, ought to be expected. They wrap themselves up in their business, take their recreations with their male companions, and then wonder why eyes which were once radiant are now sad. It is because a home is a woman's heart that many men are unexpectably cruel to the women whom they have promised before God and man to cherish until death. If the husband, feeling that by the furnishing and maintenance of the house his duty is fulfilled, goes off to his business and pleasures, or
